

ColorBreaker

Marks every item in your document with detailed color information

Color markup of documents is a time consuming task that art directors and production managers have been doing manually since the advent of color printing. ColorBreaker ends that. It is absolutely accurate and unbelievably fast. We can guarantee that ColorBreaker will save you lots of time.

It produces much more detailed and precise labels than if done by hand. ColorBreaker places 'tags' that contain pertinent color information and accurately point to items and text blocks with arrows. This information contains everything your printer will need. It also alerts you to RGB or spot color problems. ColorBreaker labels QuarkXPress elements and imported graphics as well. When a tag is moved manually, the arrows 'magically' reattach to it.
