

Licensing Models

These are the different types of licensing models available for FotoWare server applications:

Normal licenses

Normal FotoWare server licenses permit installation on one server only, with a maximum of two re-hosts per year

FotoWare software is not licensed for re-sale, hosting or rental, unless written confirmation of such use is given by FotoWare

Redundancy licenses

A redundancy license offers a backup solution in the event of a system failure or maintenance.

- Allows installation on a secondary computer system and can be used on hot/cold clusters or through on/off technology
- Licensed at 25% of the retail price of the application and can be purchased for individual applications
- The main license and the redundancy licenses must be covered by a Software Maintenance Agreement (18% yearly fee)

Staging system

A staging system is essentially a test system license that allows a customer to maintain a separate test system. It is used for testing of updates and new versions, experiments with configuration/customization and quality assurance.

- Available at 20% of the full system (including clients)
 - Must be covered by SMA
