

GuideLines

Make your custom guides and grids in QuarkXPress

GuideLines allows you to automatically place XPress guides to form custom grids based on any number of rows and columns. Guides can be placed on a page or on a spread, from edge to edge or within the margins. Each grid can have a unique color assigned to it as well as gutter attributes. A gutter size can be specified for both horizontal and vertical guides, with each direction being independent of the other
