

Renumberer

creates a continuous page numbering over multiple documents

Lets you create a continuous page numbering (even after the fact) over multiple documents. This makes this XTension ideal for larger publications consisting of different documents. To paginate, you can determine the sequence of documents in a folder or volume. This list can easily be changed by moving the documents. When ready, by keystroke all documents are opened in the correct sequence, page numbers are generated and the documents are then closed again.
