

Our Services

Ready to print solutions from one source! With the focus on publishing and prepress solutions CoDesCo develops, optimizes and integrates system solutions for publishers, print production companies and all other companies who are involved in communication/publishing over 20 years.

Our service portfolio encompasses everything beginning with workflow analysis and optimization of system environments up to consulting and integration of complete publishing systems.

CoDesCo offers "nothing off the rack"! In an intensive dialogue we develop customized software solutions at customer's option. These solutions can be complete new systems or just extended modules which we integrate over interfaces in running systems.

For both, new systems as well as system enlargements, we are focused on our own product developments and on established products of our partner companies, too.

Due to our long lasting experience and competence as system integrator and developer of publishing system solutions we often noticed, that existing systems just need a few modifications to modify a running system to the requirements of our customers. For our customers these modifications are not only technically more efficient, our cost-/performance ratio is also very convincing.

Xtensions for every need! CodesCo is one of the worldwide leading companies which provide and develop Xtensions for QuarkXPress™, QuarkCopyDesk and the QPS System. Under the label "extended technologies" CoDesCo has developed various Xtensions, which are sold and used worldwide.
