Spatium Corrector

Automatic calculating of character pairs

Spatium-Corrector calulates up to 7,000 character pairs within seconds automatically. With this tool you achive an even and well-adjusted typeface, even in headlines or for big font sizes. You may have pairs of digits calculated and thus get typesetting digits for a harmonical impression of digit sequences within continuous text. Should you have to include tables into the text, you may revert this digit kerning for selected areas and will get table digits again. All kerning values will be saved within your XPress Preferences and within the document. You will not need to deliver your fonts and a special XTension together with your jobs to print out your documents at a service bureau.
