

BureauExpress

Automatic forwarding of QuarkXPress files via modem choosing the "print" command

The XTension BureauExpress works in connection with the Bureau Master System. If activated, the XPress "print" command causes the generating of a PostScript file on the volume/drive. This PostScript file is automatically stuffed and sent automatically via modem to the responsible service department. In order to activate this process, "BureauExpress" is called up in the utilities menu and the document is set to print. BureauExpress interrupts printing and demands an exposition form to be filled (shipping, resolution, film or paper, comments to exposition and so on).
