

CAPTIONmatic

CAPTIONmatic automatically and precisely attaches captions and credits to picture boxes.

Once you have created a caption, you will never have to bother about it again. Just be creative, CAPTIONmatic will take care of routine matters: if you move the image, the caption moves with it; if you resize the image, the caption will resize accordingly; if you place the image across the binding margin, the caption is split in two; if you bleed the image, the caption stays within the type area. User-defined caption boxes are stored in a QuarkXPress library – even with formatted dummy text.
