

ex Index

Easy creating an index of article numbers

ex Index is an XTension for QuarkXPress 10 Mac which enable to create an index of all article numbers in a QuarkXPress document.

Just define an regular expression for your article numbers in the ex Index preferences. When choosing "Create Index" the XT will map all numbers in the document and keep the accordant numbers with its page numbers to save them into a .csv file.

Article numbers on spreads or master pages will be ignored.
