Updating page header

This XTension was designed especially for regular publications. Usually there exists a master document, which contains all possible pages of an issue. This document has to be modified for every issue. The modifications include the publication date as well as the pagination (e.g. day, page number, issue) in different formats. In the master document ex Pagina replaces predefined placeholders with the current data. Which placeholders and what formats of placeholders shall be replaced can be defined in the preferences dialog of ex Pagina.
