

Text-/ Picture Info

It is possible to generate several templates for text/picture information.

Individual text/picture information parameters can be allocated to each template:

The stored text/picture information parameter will be shown in the output/print result (below for a picture, for text it would be similar).

