TeXT&Box VJust

easy to use Vertical adjustment tool

An easy to use Vertical adjustment tool with which the typesetter can enter the units of remaining space in units of a text box before and after the paragraph. By keystroke spacing in a text box is spread out evenly. The height of the text box can also be automatically adjusted to the text amount. –> ex VerticalSpace

What is 'TeXT&Box VJust'?
This XTension™ does only two things, but performs them perfectly: selective vertical justification and automatic adjustment of frameheights of text and picture boxes. Two functions QuarkXPress™ lacks.
A ‘vertical adjusting’ tool, quick and simple to operate, with which the compositor indicates in a palette the number of units of the free space between text end and box end are placed before and/or after the selected paragraph. A vertical space variable may be set, changed or deleted very quickly. The text is reflowed so the result of the given variable space vertical is visible immediately.
Variable space values set in previous paragraphs can be copied to other paragraphs.
Wouldn’t you be glad, if the box were growing while you were typing your text? Did you already try to adjust a box to the exact text or picture height with a mouse click? No? - do it now!

Where is 'TeXT&Box VJust' useful?
'TeXT&Box VJust' is useful for every QuarkXPress user making advertisements, Layouts and tables on regular basis.
This XTension™ works together with QPS articles placed on QPS 1.1x or 2.06 Layouts.
